Statement:

It is no secret that I am fiscally conservative. I think governments at all levels – local, state, and national – need to live within their means the same way families and small businesses have to and I expect to see a dollar's worth of value returned for every public dollar spent. I also believe that genuine honesty and unquestionable integrity are key attributes of character which an elected official not only must possess personally but must insist upon in others in order to have the trust of the people.

Maintaining healthy and fiscally vibrant Coastal Communities is paramount. The fair and equitable sharing of State oil revenues with municipalities and rural communities must be protected and notwithstanding the expected decline in those revenues in the immediate future. Other points of emphasis must include, but not limited to, keeping our fisheries healthy, maintaining a dependable Marine Highway System and assuring the availability of affordable energy.

It is imperative that State support for K-12 education remain of the highest priority. I strongly support the concept of multi-year funding education. We must never lose sight of the fact our children are our future.
