Statement:

There are many issues currently plaguing our state's government and no one is budging. There is a lot of back and forth on important matters which are hurting Alaskans. We need someone to step up, talk to both sides of the political aisle, look at all possible solutions, and act instead of blaming others; I am that someone. I plan to take your concerns to heart and fight for you in Juneau. There has been too much cutting of important programs such as education, research, and healthcare. We have cut our budget to bare bones yet the current House and Senate want to give millions away to outside interests and corporations with your PFD- that is not what Alaskans deserve. We need new sources of revenue and to diversify our investments, that isn't happening now. Many people in North Pole have expressed their concerns to me and I agree with them- we need change and we need it now. I am ready to be a fresh voice with a new perspective in the State House. I am listening to you and I want be your voice in Juneau.
