Position Statement:

I have been deeply honored to serve as the first Alaska Native Speaker of the House. A big thank you to everyone who helped make that possible.

Given Alaska's current fiscal challenges, it's more important than ever that the district have an experienced voice in Juneau. That is why I am running for reelection.

My focus will continue to be on creating a stable fiscal future for Alaska. The alternative is wholesale budget cuts, which would be highly detrimental to rural Alaska.

I'll continue to fight for our district's health & safety and education needs, and push for troopers, VPSOs and consistent ferry service for Southwest Alaska. I'll also work to make sure the Department of Fish & Game has the resources to manage our world-class fisheries.

This past session the legislature used earnings from the permanent fund to help pay for essential services. I supported legislation to limit what can be spent from the fund, and will continue to champion growing it, in order to protect the PFD well into the future.

I am blessed to have great legislative staff who put in long hours with me on behalf of the district. Sadly, my long-time friend and legislative aide, Adam Berg, passed away this July after a lengthy illness. He will be greatly missed.

With your support on November 6, I will continue to work hard to improve the quality of life for our towns and villages in House District 37.
