STATEMENT:
My name is Walter Featherly, and I'm committed to making Alaska a place where hard work leads to opportunities for Alaskans. Alaska needs a sustainable fiscal plan, focusing on prudent management and growth. We must protect the Permanent Fund, develop state-owned assets to generate revenue to fund our essential public services, ensure quality education for our students, and invest in infrastructure without burdening Alaskans with additional taxes.

Smart government investments will build our economic future—good schools, safe roads and bridges, highspeed internet, and affordable energy.
We must also ensure investment in keeping the Hillside community safe—snowplowing, fire mitigation, road maintenance, good drainage, and safe routes to schools.

Economic stability and prosperity for Alaska and Alaskans are my top priorities. Alaskans are experiencing the strain of rising living costs and struggling schools. Further increases in energy bills would be devastating, driving up prices and placing additional pressure on businesses and families.
Failing to adequately fund our schools and provide pensions for our teachers and other public employees will continue our population drain and the shrinkage of our workforce. Alaska has the resources and Alaskans have the smarts to make Alaska a place where businesses can grow and families can thrive. Working together, we can get this done.

I am an experienced leader, and I am dedicated to ensuring these priorities become reality. With your support, we can create a prosperous and sustainable future for Alaska.
