Being born and raised in Eagle River means that I truly understand our community and what it needs most. We work together to rise above any political rhetoric and create lasting change in quality education and safe communities reeling in government spending and overreach.

Five years ago, at 23, I began my journey into community leadership through a group aiming to differentiate Eagle River from Anchorage. As a Board Member of Eaglexit and a representative on Eagle River's Road Board and CERAB through my community council role at Southfork, I've been committed to uniting people despite political differences.

Position Statement

As a lifelong resident of Eagle River, I am deeply committed to addressing the critical issues that impact our community and our state.

Quality Education: Ensuring a quality education is fundamental to Alaska's future. I will advocate for increased funding for public schools to meet modern educational demands. Investing in STEM, arts, music, and charter schools will provide our students with diverse pathways to success, preparing them for the challenges of tomorrow.

Community Safety: Safety is paramount for thriving communities. I will strengthen law enforcement capabilities and support comprehensive crime prevention initiatives. By investing in substance abuse, mental health services, and youth programs, we can tackle the root causes of crime and violence, ensuring a safer Eagle River for all.

Snow Maintenance: Efficient snow removal is essential for our community's mobility and safety. I will prioritize proactive strategies to keep our roads and public spaces clear, minimizing disruptions and enhancing public safety during Alaska's challenging winters.

Financial Stability: I believe in fiscal responsibility and transparency. By ensuring responsible spending and budgeting, we can build trust and stability while investing in sustainable infrastructure, healthcare, and economic growth opportunities that benefit all Alaskans.

Guarding Against Overreach: Protecting individual freedoms and privacy is non-negotiable. I will defend against government overreach, ensuring that decisions respect our rights and maintain the trust between citizens and their elected representatives.

Economic Development: To secure Alaska's economic future, I will foster an environment that promotes innovation, entrepreneurship, and sustainable practices. By investing in modern infrastructure and supporting small businesses, we can attract investment, create jobs, and position Alaska competitively in the global economy.
