Position Statement

I have called Alaska home since 1977, where my wife and I raised two wonderful children. Throughout the years, I have witnessed the good, the bad, and the many challenges our state has faced.

When I first ran for the House in 2006, our state was flush with money and had a vibrant economy. I ran to ensure that my kids and my grandkids could experience a prosperous Alaska by holding politicians in Juneau accountable for their spending. As a long-time businessman, I approach government with the same principles and efficiencies I applied in business. I am proud of my work in being tough on crime, protecting the PFD, paying down historic amounts of debt, defending property and 2nd Amendment rights, investing in Alaska and fighting federal overreach.

Two years ago, I decided to run to represent South Anchorage again, because, like you, I am deeply concerned about the future of our state and felt a duty to return. I am proud of my achievements, including implementing victim-centric legislation, adopting a fix for the correspondence school shutdown by the Alaska Supreme Court, and funding K-12 education.

My priorities as your representative have been and always will be putting Alaskans first to ensure that there are opportunities for future generations, focusing on safe neighborhoods, a thriving and diverse economy, and student-centered quality education.

With your support, I'll work hard to make sure we have a strong and effective voice in Juneau.
