Other:
Linn and I have lived in Big Lake for four years. I’m retired from the USCG and I’ve lived in Alaska for almost 40 years. I have a BS Degree, an MBA, and currently captaining Boeing 747s for a major international air cargo airline.

From the US Coast Guard, to serving my fellow pilots, as a negotiator or steward, my callings all seem to be to serve my community or co-workers. We are blessed with adult children as well as many grandkids. I’m proud to be an American and an Alaskan.

Position Statement:
Whatever your ideas are, about the myriad issues confronting our state, I am sure you know there are great problems in Juneau. Candidates have a choice: we can run from those problems; or we can run towards them with ideas for solutions, leadership, service, and leave a better state for our children.

The time for standing around and watching is over. It is time to do, not to be!

The time to shrug your shoulders, or wink and nod, at difficult issues such as the binding caucus, PFD, or revenue and resource development, is finished. No longer can a legislator or candidate sit back and provide milquetoast answers and platitudes to constituents or voters. No longer will the citizens of Alaska put up with the destruction of our state by a spendthrift legislature or governor.

It is time for a change!

I’m ethical, engaged, and invested in making a real difference in anything I do. I’m not pursuing this position for economic gain or power, but because I believe the direction of state government needs to change. Alaska needs citizen statesmen and bold leadership to reverse our race to the bottom.

The new legislator must be able to use not just the phone, but any social media available to his or her constituents, to communicate with them over their concerns and to provide information on the various bills and issues in our State.

Together we can do better!
