Position Statement:
The Fairbanks/North Pole area has been my home since I was stationed at Fort Wainwright in 1965. I've seen a lot of changes and challenges since then.

From my years as a small business owner, to my 2 terms as the Mayor of Fairbanks, to the last 10 years as your Representative, I've been blessed with the opportunity to go to work every day to help Interior Alaskans. I've also been blessed with a beautiful family and a community that understands the importance of hard work and the freedom to live life like an Alaskan. Anyone who's been here for long knows that I've always been a steady conservative voice and a leader with a determination to apply the principles that guide me to make our community stronger and our government more accountable.

Alaska is facing unprecedented challenges. The recent instability in oil prices, declining production on the North Slope and the ongoing economic disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic have created chaos and uncertainty. Now more than ever, we need experienced leaders who understand the legislative process and are 100% ready to get to work on their first day in office. We need leaders with the skills and relationships to make sure that our community's voice is heard in Juneau. We need conservative values that will maintain downward pressure on the budget while still ensuring that we're taking reasonable actions to help Alaskans whose lives have been turned upside down. With your support, I'll continue to serve Interior Alaskans.
