Alaska’s Ballot Counting System // Alaska-m Cucuklircuutnek Naaqiyaraa

Your Vote is Secure!
Cucukillren Qaunqumaq!

Alaska uses three different methods to count ballots:
Alaska-q cucuklircuutnek naaqiyaarangqertuq pingayunek:

❖ Hand-count
    Unatekun-naaqluki

❖ Precinct Scanner
    Cucukliryaram Nunakiurutiita Naaqissuutiikun

❖ Voting Tablet
    Computer-aarngalngurkun Cucuklircuun

Alaska’s ballot tabulation system has a paper trail of every ballot cast. Each precinct receives paper ballots that are either hand-counted when the polls close or are scanned during the day as the voter inserts the ballot into the precinct scanner and the results are tabulated after the polls close. In addition, during federal elections, each precinct has a voting tablet. (Depending on location some are equipped with a voter-verifiable paper trail that allows the voter to verify the printed version of the ballot prior to casting the ballot.)

The ballot tabulation system used in Alaska to produce and count ballots is federally certified and is thoroughly tested prior to each election. It is a stand-alone system that is not connected to the internet or to a network.

Each precinct scanner and voting tablet, along with their corresponding memory cards are tested prior to the election. A functionality test is conducted to ensure the equipment is in proper working order. Two different logic and accuracy tests are performed, by two different bi-partisan boards, to ensure the devices are counting correctly.

In addition to the pre-election testing, the division is required by law to conduct a verification of machine counts by hand-counting ballots from a random sampling of precincts. In fact, through this verification, precinct in each of the 40 house districts that accounts for at least 5% of the ballots cast for that district for that district throughout Alaska are hand-counted after the election to verify the election results are accurate. If there is a discrepancy of more than 1% in the hand-count verification, the division is required to hand-count all of the ballots cast in the district.
With all the testing, security and verification processes used by the Division of Elections during each election, you can go to the polls knowing that your vote is secure and that it will be accurately counted and reported.

If you need language or other assistance during the voting process, you may have a person of your choice help you as long as that person is not a candidate for office in the election, is not your employer, agent of your employer or agent of a union you belong to. You can have help during each step of the voting process, including inside the voting booth with reading or marking the ballot. The election workers at the polling place are available to help you as well. This is your right under federal law.

Language Assistance // Yugcetun Taikaniriyaaraq

For limited English voters, proficient Alaska Native, Spanish, and Tagalog voters; areas under the Toyukak Settlement agreement, Section 203 of the Voting Rights Act, and in other areas designated by the court, bilingual outreach workers and poll workers have been hired by the Division of Elections to provide language assistance.

Before Election Day, bilingual-workers and poll workers have been hired by the Division of Elections to provide language assistance in rural areas where there are limited English proficient Alaska Native voters. Before Election Day, bilingual workers make announcements, provide election information to their community and are available to provide language assistance for any voting related activity, including voter registration, absentee voting and to assist with all information in this pamphlet. On Election Day, bilingual workers will provide language assistance at the polling place with the voting process, including translating the ballot.

If you need the name of the person who has been hired to provide language assistance in your community, please contact the Division of Elections. On Election Day, each polling place will have a voting tablet. The voting tablet is intended for the blind, disabled, and for voters who do not read well. It allows voters to vote unassisted through the use of magnified, high contrast and audio ballots. In designated areas where there are limited English voters, the voting tablet will also have an audio translation of the ballot in Alaska Native languages, Spanish and Tagalog for applicable regions. Voting an audio ballot may take 15 – 20 minutes. If you need to vote using the touch screen voting machine, let the election board know.

Visually Impaired Voters // Cucuklitulit takvialnguut
In addition to the voting tablet at each polling place, magnifying ballot viewers are available at all polling places and absentee voting sites. - Encouraging voters who have health concerns to vote Absentee By-Mail.
- Asking Election Officials to not report to work if they feel ill or have undergone COVID testing and have not received results.
- Election Officials will be required to wear provided PPE such as facial coverings and gloves.
- Hand sanitizer will be available for voters to use before checking in, when using voting equipment, and when they exit the polling place.
- DOE will provide 6-foot markings in the polling place to promote the CDC recommended social distancing and Election Officials will encourage voters to practice social distancing while standing in line; being checked in; and waiting to place their ballot in the ballot box.
Election Officials will make every effort to space voting booths six feet apart.

Election Officials will monitor the number of people in a location at a time, depending on CDC and HSS guidelines.

What to expect at polling places this year
Mat'umi allarakumi canek neryuniullerqaq cucuklirvigni

- Due to social distancing, it is possible that your polling place will not have as many voting booths as they have in the past. This may cause longer wait times.
- Due to the risks associated with large groups gathering (especially in a small indoor place), we will be monitoring, to the best of our ability, the number of people inside a polling place at a time. This may cause you to wait in line outside of the polling place.
- Due to COVID-19, we may have a significantly lower amount of poll place workers than in previous years, meaning some poll places may have a smaller staff than usual. This may also cause longer wait times.
- There will be PPE available for voters, such as facial coverings, gloves, and hand sanitizer.

Cover Design

Championing the empowerment of female Alaskans on the path to equality, the Division of Elections celebrates the rich and diverse history of strong women in the Last Frontier and their fight for women’s suffrage. The path to equality did not begin or end with the monumental 19th amendment and Alaskan women from all backgrounds demonstrated this through their achievements and contributions that shaped the Alaska we know and love today.

The images on this year’s cover are a small glimpse of the innumerable stories that have played out under the Midnight Sun; stories of women who not only survived but thrived in times of both hardship and discrimination. We honor these women for their courage and fortitude, like that of the Red Cross Auxiliary of Native Women who despite discrimination towards Tlingit Alaskans and lack of support, dutifully served during World War I. We honor Marvel Crosson, the first Alaska woman pilot; and the “Queen of Reindeer”, Changunak Antisarlook Andrewuk (Sinrock Mary), who fought the legal system to keep her reindeer herd when her husband died and grew it into the largest reindeer herd in Alaska.

Strong Alaskan women of today, and the people who support them, can look to these women and their stories for inspiration to continue paving a way to justice and equality for all generations to come. Visit the online exhibit, “Women of Alaska”, to explore the stories of these women and reflect on their accomplishments, as well as those of the women in your own life.

Division of Elections is grateful for the images and historical information provided by the Alaska State Library Historical Collections and Alaska State Archives. Please visit the online exhibit, “Women of Alaska” at URL: lam.alaska.gov/womenofalaska

Statement:
Joe Biden is running to unite our country, rebuild the middle class, and restore the soul of our nation. We’re facing unprecedented crises: pandemic, recession, racial injustice, climate change. With experience and empathy, Biden will tackle them head-on, end the chaos, and rebuild a more just America.

Biden has spent his life in public service, fighting for working families. As Vice President, he led the Recovery Act, lifting us from recession and sparking a record 113 months of job growth. He fought to pass the Affordable Care Act, protecting 100 million Americans with pre-existing conditions; helped seal the Paris Climate Accord and launched the Cancer Moonshot, to end cancer as we know it. He wrote the landmark Violence Against Women Act, transforming how government supports survivors.

He has always brought people together to get things done, and he’ll beat today’s crises to build back better. He’ll work with scientists to beat COVID. He’ll make healthcare a right for everyone. He’ll rebuild our economy, reviving manufacturing, building a clean energy future and sustainable infrastructure, boosting caregiving to ease the squeeze on working families, and making racial equity central to recovery – creating millions of good-paying jobs. And he knows Bristol Bay is no place for a mine and will protect all it offers Alaska, our country, and the world.

KAMALA D. HARRIS – US VICE PRESIDENT – DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

Residence Address/Utavian
Address-aara: Los Angeles, California

Email/Computer-aatgun
Tuqlurcuutii: info@joebiden.com

Website/Computer-aatgun
Paqvia: www.joebiden.com

Age/Allrakui: 56

Place of Birth/Yuurvia: Oakland, California

Occupation/Caliara: U.S. Senator for California

Education/Elitnaullra: University of California, Hastings College of the Law (J.D.); Howard University (B.A.)

Political and Government Positions/Alerquuciur-tengullra,

Statement:
Kamala Harris has devoted her life to making real the words carved over the entrance to the U.S. Supreme Court: “Equal justice under law.” As the daughter of immigrants, she was raised to believe in the promise of America, and to fight until it’s fulfilled for all Americans.

As a District Attorney, she stood up for victims and against abuse of power. As California’s first woman Attorney General, she prosecuted human traffickers and transnational gangs. She defended a landmark climate law, protected the Affordable Care Act, and fought for marriage equality. She took on big banks for mortgage fraud, winning $20 billion for homeowners who’d faced foreclosures; and $1.1 billion for students and military veterans who’d been scammed by for-profit educators.

In the U.S. Senate, Harris has continued fighting for working families, for a $15-minimum wage, to reform cash bail, and to defend immigrants and refugees. On the Intelligence, Homeland Security, and Judiciary Committees, she deals regularly with our most sensitive national security threats, and pushes daily to hold Administration officials accountable.

As Vice President, Harris will champion Joe Biden’s vision for a more decent, more united America — working beside him to beat COVID and build our economy back better. She’ll fight for an education system where no child’s future is determined by income.

DON BLANKENSHIP – US PRESIDENT – CONSTITUTION NOMINEE

Statement:
There has never been a more important time for America to consider a third-party candidate for President. We need to have honest conversations, we need real debate, and we don’t need artificial drama. We need fearless discussions rooted in intelligence and facts.

Blankenship calls is plan The Third Way Plan for America. His plan has three principles: Equality, Ethics, and Exactness. Said Blankenship, “Americans must stand up for right versus wrong, not Republican versus Democrat. If we follow my THIRD WAY we can get back to solving problems for ordinary Americans, instead of worrying if it makes the two major political parties and their corporate media sponsors happy.”

Equality – We must remove all laws that discriminate, provide privilege or imply that all Americans are not equal. Public figures must be allowed to openly discuss these problems if we are to fix them.

Ethics – We must return to a nation of laws. We must hold Members of Congress to at least as strict compliance with the law as we do American businesses and businessmen. Conflicts of interest, improper behavior, and waste cannot be tolerated.

Exactness – Americans must be made aware that they cannot rely on the media for truthful information. Corporations need to exert less control over American media organizations so that we have more access to truthful sources.

Position Statement:
No group better represents the independent streak that defines Alaska and its people than the Libertarian Party.

While 4,000 miles separate The Last Frontier from Washington, DC, it sometimes feels that there is an even greater divide between Alaskans and the politicians who claim to represent them.

Perhaps that is why the best ever results for Libertarian presidential, gubernatorial, and U.S. Senate candidates have all come in Alaska.

Alaska has made clear that it won’t settle for the status quo, and time and again, Alaskans are shown to be correct in their suspicions of business-as-usual.

Much like Alaskans, Libertarians know that it doesn’t have to be this way.

We can reduce healthcare costs without putting government in charge of highly personal medical decisions and creating a one-size-fits-all system.

We can prioritize our national security without being involved in unnecessary foreign wars and stationing troops around the world in dozens of countries away from their families.

We can protect our communities without sacrificing freedom through failed initiatives like civil asset forfeiture, no-knock raids, qualified immunity, and the War on Drugs.

Statement:
My running mate, Jo Jorgensen, and I are running on a platform of maximizing your freedom and personal liberty while, at the same time, minimizing the harm that inevitably comes from government interference in your lives. We believe that you are better suited to make the important decisions that affect your life than any government agency and, to that end, we will end or reduce the size of every government agency in existence. We will end the IRS so that you can keep all the fruits of your labor. We will end the ATF so that you and your neighbors can defend yourselves in any way you see fit. We will get the federal government out of schools so that families and communities can make decisions about how best to educate their children. We will end the drug war and release its victims from their cages so that they can live productive lives again without the stigma of a felony conviction for victimless commerce. We will end the endless wars and immediately bring our troops home, creating one giant Switzerland, armed and neutral. A vote for Jo and I is a vote for freedom, prosperity, and peace. Position Statement:
The Democratic and Republican parties were created because of the split of a single Democratic-Republican Party, as a consequence of the election of 1824. Since then, our country has been under the illusion that we have an effective multi-party democracy. It’s time to burst that bubble.

There is only one American political establishment in power. The “two party system” that has ruled the United States of America for the past 200 years is simply an externalized display of the infighting of a single political establishment.

I am not in this election to rob anyone of votes – I am in this election to put an end to the illusion that we live in a flourishing democracy that facilitates solving the real problems facing Americans each and every day.

I don’t need to win every state to effectively win the 2020 U.S. Presidential Election. I only need to win enough states to ensure that no candidate has a majority of votes in the electoral college. Just as it did in 1824, in 2020 the highly divided House of Representatives will then have the opportunity to compromise by choosing the one candidate that can unite America in service to all Americans: Brock Pierce.

Growing up in a household of both Republicans and Democrats, I've always taken the middle ground. I've desired to see our most vulnerable communities have a chance at pursuing the American dream. My passion lies in unifying Americans first by recognizing our founding fathers' vision, not to have a monarchy, but a democracy that allowed for all voices to be heard. A two-party system has been super divisive; I believe a third party gives people the choice to express views for governance with freedom not to be boxed in as a liberal or conservative citizen. My politics are driven by data and the understanding that no matter how different our views, we all have a shared humanity and responsibility to provide the best solutions for our communities. Despite our current political landscape I am convinced the next generation will be about building bridges and less about building divides.

Statement:

When I asked you for your vote four years ago, I made a promise to always put America First. I have delivered on that promise and many more, but there’s still more work to be done.

Over the last four years, my administration has made tremendous progress lowering taxes on hard-working middle-class families, establishing better trade deals for our nation, and ushering in the best economy this country has ever seen.

Before our record economic growth was artificially interrupted by the coronavirus, we created the lowest unemployment rate in a lifetime, including the lowest unemployment for Hispanic and Black Americans in the history of our nation, and we are already doing it again.

We must defeat the invisible enemy, hold China accountable for their role in unleashing this destructive virus, and restore Americans to economic prosperity.

I took an oath to defend the United States of America, the greatest country in the world, which is why I will always oppose radical agendas that would kill jobs, raise your taxes, and make our communities less safe.

We must also protect our history and our heritage which is why I will not allow the radical left to cancel or destroy the beliefs, culture, and identity that have made America the most vibrant and tolerant society ever in the history of our planet.

Thank you for your support. Together we will keep fighting to Make America Great Again.

Statement:
It is the honor of a lifetime to serve our country as Vice President and work with President Donald J. Trump to Make America Great Again!
I have watched firsthand as this President fought to protect this nation.

The best part of working with this President is that Donald Trump ran on a set of promises to the American people, and actually kept them. Once elected to office he cut regulations that hampered our businesses, cut taxes for middle-class families, and got to work securing our southern border with Mexico. Quite simply, he got to work on Making America Great Again.

President Trump also understands that his first responsibility as commander-and-chief is to keep American citizens safe, which is why he has stood up to the radical agenda (oppose plans to begin change) of defunding our police and has supported our law enforcement, who put their lives on the line to keep our families safe.

This November American voters face a clear choice between freedom and opportunity or socialism and decline. I hope that you will join me in supporting this President as he continues to put our country on a path to prosperity.

Thank you, and may God Bless America.

We are buffeted by many ills from government. Foremost in my mind is taxation. The government - federal, state, borough, city - all are thieves. Even when the spending comes from a vote of the people it is theft, the only difference is those that voted for spending are now also guilty. How do we fund government without theft? It may sound as a joke, until you spend a few weeks thinking about it, but the funding must come from individuals voluntarily giving. This is the only way government will ever be responsive to the people. If government is not voluntary, it is a dictatorship. I will do all I can to end taxes. The Declaration of Independence was the revelation by government of citizen’s right to freedom. This was declared, only after a revolt because of taxes. The Bill of Rights is the government’s contract to refrain from taking your freedom. We Alaskans need to reclaim our freedom. Yet how can we reclaim that which has never been afforded us? Many years ago, the common thought was that Alaska was being held as a storehouse. I have grown however to realize, that the truth is the taxing, the locked up land, the denied rs2477 trails, the puppet state government, and many other abuses, are not for holding resources, but rather to keep the independent and strong Alaskan people from becoming independent and free individuals. (the reality of the truth is, to keep people like him from being independent and free)

Reduce Costs of Healthcare: The cost of healthcare

Statement:
The last few years have been difficult for Alaska. Our revenue from oil that Alaska has previously enjoyed has significantly lessened and hard decisions have had to be made. We have seen attacks on power cost equalization and on fully funding education. Since ninety percent of Alaska’s oil revenue come from District T on the North Slope – It is important that I continue to fight to bring back jobs and resources to our Senate district. I will keep supporting a full Permanent Fund Dividend and assure that the oil companies adequately pay for the non-renewable resources that they are extracting from our lands.

Power Cost Equalization (PCE) has been under direct attack the last 2 years. PCE keeps rural electric energy costs low for individuals. The administration attempted to steal the entirety of the 1 Billion dollars in the fund. I and other rural legislators banded together to save the PCE fund from being spent on urban needs. I still firmly believe in fully funding education. Our children are our future. I have worked on increasing broadband availability for rural Alaska, sought & supported equality measures between urban & rural students, pushed for the popular library grant program, sought & supported funding for school maintenance & construction in rural Alaska.

Now is the time to send me back to Juneau so my experience on the Senate Finance Committee will continue to work towards a better and brighter Alaska for you. I thank you in advance for your continued support.

An Act changing the oil and gas production tax for certain fields, units, and nonunitized reservoirs on the North Slope
Alerquutngurcugngalriim cimiryaraa uqulkuum kaassam-llu caliaqellragnek akiliqurautiik North Slope-ami ilaitni “field-at, unit-aat, nonunitized reservoir- at-llu”

This act would change the oil and gas production tax for areas of the North Slope where a company produced more than 40,000 barrels of oil per day in the prior year and more than 400 million barrels total. The new areas would be divided up based on “fields, units, and nonunitized reservoirs” that meet the production threshold. The act does not define these terms. For any areas that meet the production threshold, the tax would be the greater of one of two new taxes.

(1) One tax would be a tax on the gross value at the point of production of the oil at a rate of 10% when oil is less than $50 per-barrel. This tax would increase to a maximum of 15% when oil is $70 per-barrel or higher. No deductions could take the tax below the 10% to 15% floor.

(2) The other tax, termed an “additional tax,” would be based on a calculation of a production tax value for the oil that would allow lease expenditure and transportation cost deductions. This tax on production tax value would be calculated based on the difference between the production tax value of the oil and $50. The difference between the two would be multiplied by the volume of oil, and then that amount would be multiplied by 15%. The existing per-taxable-barrel credit would not apply. The act uses the term “additional tax” but it does not specify what the new tax is in addition to.

The tax would be calculated for each field, unit, or nonunitized reservoir on a monthly basis. Taxes are currently calculated on an annual basis, with monthly estimated payments. Since these new taxes would only apply to certain areas, a taxpayer would still have to submit annual taxes for the areas where the new taxes do not apply.
The act would also make all filings and supporting information relating to the calculation and payment of the new taxes “a matter of public record.” The act does not specify the process for disclosure of the public records.

Should this initiative become law?
Una-qaa alerquutngurrli?
This Act creates new oil and gas production taxes.

Uum Alerquutngurcugngalriim ayagniryaraak nutarak uqulkuum kaassam-llu caliaqellragnek akiliqurautiik

The taxes apply to fields, units, and nonunitized reservoirs on the North Slope that have produced more than 40,000 barrels of oil a day in the previous year and more than 400,000,000 barrels of oil cumulatively. Any parts of the existing oil and gas production tax that conflicts with the Act does not apply. The Act has two new taxes, a new gross value tax and a new net value tax. The new gross value tax is 10%. The new gross value tax applies to the value of barrel of oil over $50. The new gross value tax increases by 1% for each $5 increase in the price of a barrel of oil over $50. The new gross value tax may not exceed 15% of the gross value of oil produced. A credit or loss may not be applied against the new gross value tax. The new net value tax is 15%. The new net value tax applies to the net value of a barrel of oil over $50. A taxpayer will pay the higher of the net value tax or the gross value tax. The Act requires the taxes to be calculated separately for oil and for gas. The new taxes apply each month. The Act requires certain costs to be calculated and applied against taxes separately. The Act makes information related to tax filings under the Act public information. The Act has a provision that removes parts of the Act if they are found to be invalid, while keeping the rest of the Act intact.

Ballot Measure No. 1
Statement of Opposition

On November 3, Alaskans will decide an issue of utmost importance to the future of our state. Ballot Measure 1 would dramatically raise oil taxes by at least 150% and can exceed over 300% depending on the price of oil. According to independent economic analysis, the oil and gas industry is “the single most important economic engine in the state.” The industry supports over 25% of all jobs and wages in Alaska. While Ballot Measure 1 may bring in additional state revenue in the short term, I am voting no on Ballot Measure 1 because a massive tax increase will cripple Alaska’s economy. Long-term, less spending in Alaska means less production, which means fewer jobs, a further weakened economy, and reduced PFDs; Alaska’s future is truly at risk if Ballot Measure 1 passes. Alaska’s economy is more fragile than ever, and the stakes have never been higher. As a former director of the Oil & Gas Division for Governor Walker, I know firsthand that our current tax system is working, and prior to the Russia-Saudi Arabia oil price war and global pandemic, Alaska was on the verge of substantial increases in activity in both core and new fields. Increasing taxes will do nothing to bring these projects to reality and will make the state’s economic recovery extremely difficult, if not impossible. I cannot understand how Alaska could be considering a tax increase while other oil producing states and countries are adopting policies to help the industry maintain jobs and grow production during these uncertain economic times. Regrettably, the Vote Yes campaign has done a deep disservice to voters by basing its campaign on “a litany of outright lies or misleading claims” as part of “a naked attempt to fool voters,” according to the Alaska Journal of Commerce newspaper. Alaskan voters deserve facts not politically-charged campaign rhetoric.

If taxes should be raised, ballot measures are not the right tool. Akiliqurautet quyigiarkaukata, alerquutngurcugngalriit ciumurutekaunritut.

If state oil taxes should be adjusted, Alaskans deserve to have this discussion in the open where options are analyzed, debated, and the best solution is put forward. Ballot Measure 1 was written by oil industry critics behind closed doors without any public review. Complicated oil tax policy should not be decided via ballot measures.

I am proud to Chair the OneALASKA coalition; representing over 500 small businesses, labor unions, Alaska Native Corporations, and community groups, and thousands of citizens that believe Ballot Measure 1 is the wrong solution for Alaska’s future. We know that a massive tax hike on Alaska’s largest economic engine will damage our economy, small businesses and jobs.

On November 3, please join us in Voting NO on Ballot Measure 1.

An Act Replacing the Political Party Primary with an Open Primary System and Ranked-Choice General Election, and Requiring Additional Campaign Finance Disclosures

This act would get rid of the party primary system, and political parties would no longer select their candidates to appear on the general election ballot. Instead, this act would create an open nonpartisan primary where all candidates would appear on one ballot. Candidates could choose to have a political party preference listed next to their name or be listed as “undeclared” or “nonpartisan.” The four candidates with the most votes in the primary election would have their names placed on the general election ballot.

This act would establish ranked-choice voting for the general election. Voters would have the option to “rank” candidates in order of choice. Voters would rank their first choice candidate as “1”, second choice candidate as “2”, and so on. Voters “1” choice would be counted first. If no candidate received a majority after counting the first-ranked votes, then the candidate with the least amount of “1” votes would be removed from counting. Those ballots that ranked the removed candidate as “1” would then be counted for the voters’ “2” ranked candidate. This process would repeat until one candidate received a majority of the remaining votes. If voters still want to choose only one candidate, they can.

This act would also require additional disclosures for contributions to independent expenditure groups and relating to the sources of contributions. It would also require a disclaimer on paid election communications by independent expenditure groups funded by a majority of out of state money.

Should this initiative become law?

AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS LAW
ALERQUUTNGURCUGNGALRIA CUCUKLIRYARAM ALERQUUTAIN TUNGIINUN

The Act would change state elections law. The Act would set new rules and penalties for campaign finance. The entity that spends to influence the election of a candidate and receives over $2,000 in a year from a donor must disclose all receipts from the donor and their source. The donor must also report the donations and their source. The Act would also require new funding statements on some paid political ads.

This Act would set an open primary for most elections. In an open primary, all candidates appear on the same ballot. Voters may not add write-in candidates. The candidates with the four highest vote totals advance to the general election ballot. The primary will not choose the nominee of a party. The Act does not change the process for president and vice president. The Act would also change the special election process for filling some vacant offices. Special open primaries will set the candidates who appear on special election ballots.

At the general election, candidates may choose to appear on the ballot as affiliated with a party or group. Voters may add write-in candidates. Write in candidates for governor or lieutenant governor do not have to be members of the same political party or group. The election pamphlet, ballot, and notice posted at each polling place will explain that candidates may designate a party or group but the designation is not party or group approval.
The Act would change the definition of political party and contribution because candidates on the ballot are not party nominees. The two parties or groups with the most registered voters may propose people to serve on some state boards. Election supervisors will appoint board members from the people proposed. The Governor must also appoint two Alaska Public Offices Commissioners from lists made by the two parties or groups. Each candidate for office may appoint one or more poll watchers.

The Act would enact ranked choice voting for general elections. Voters will rank one or more candidates for each office. The ballot will direct voters to choose as many candidates as they wish but not assign the same ranking to more than one candidate. If one candidate is first choice on more than half of the ballots cast then the candidate wins. If no candidate is first choice on more than half of the ballots cast then the Division of Elections will remove the candidate who received the fewest votes from counting for the next round. In the next round, ballots ranking a removed candidate first will then count as votes for the next highest ranked candidate on the ballot. The counting repeats until two or fewer candidates remain. The election certificate will reflect the number of votes for each candidate at each round.

The Act would change the definition of political party and contribution because candidates on the ballot are not party nominees. The two parties or groups with the most registered voters may propose people to serve on some state boards. Election supervisors will appoint board members from the people proposed. The Governor must also appoint two Alaska Public Offices Commissioners from lists made by the two parties or groups. Each candidate for office may appoint one or more poll watchers.

The proposed initiative seeks to prohibit the use of “dark money” in candidate campaigns by amending various sections of Alaska’s campaign financial disclosure laws under AS 15.13. If passed, the initiative would: require additional reporting for contributors and persons engaged in independent expenditure activities; increase civil penalties for failure to timely disclose; and change identification requirements for political communications.

The ballot initiative, if passed, would result in additional oversight, regulation, filer education, and enforcement activities for APOC requiring:

- An additional Associate Attorney I position (Salary Range 17/A). Estimated cost: $91,500. Associated overhead costs including computer equipment, core services, and general supplies. Estimated Cost: $9,000
- Approximately 50 programming hours will be required to design, test, and deploy additional disclosure forms within the agency’s online filing program. Estimated Cost: ~$2,850

The So-Called "Better Elections" Initiative Will Make Alaskans Worse Off
Apqiit “Better Elections-aaq” Alerquutngurcugngalriim Alaska-armiut Arenqiallugutait Ilalqerciqait

As public servants from opposite sides of the aisle, we have had our share of disagreements. But we are united in our belief that the so-called Better Elections Initiative will make elections worse for all Alaskans. This confusing, 25-page initiative will make drastic changes to the state’s election process - making it more difficult for Alaskans to exercise their right to vote and weakening political participation. Not surprisingly, this initiative is funded by donors who don't live in our state and won't have to live with the consequences.

Why Our Elections Will Be Worse, Not Better
Ciin Cucukliryaramta Arcariciqellra, Assirikanirpekani

This initiative would replace Alaska's current primary system—a straightforward process where voters from each party pick their preferred candidate for the general election—with what's called an "open top-four primary." This new system, also called a "Jungle Primary," creates a single primary in which everyone votes, with the top four candidates advancing to the general election. Uum alerquutngurcugngalriim cimiryaraa maa-irpak Alaska-m cucukliqaraaryaraa— qacignarqellria cucukliryaraq apqiitnek "open top-four primary" cucuklirpayaamaami cucuklitulit political party-ni cucuklirtuteng cucukestaalriamek piyukekngameggn. Under this system, it's possible for four candidates of a single political party to win the primary, shutting out the other political parties from even appearing on the ballot. Whether you're a registered Democrat, Republican, Unaffiliated or some other registration, this potential lack of representation at the ballot box is deeply disturbing.

A New Scheme to Depress Voter Turnout
Nutaram Cucuklivlagcetaarutem Ikegliciqait Cucukliryartutulit

In addition to wiping out the state's primary system, it would also eliminate our historic general election system in favor of a scheme called Ranked Choice Voting.
Ilakluku Alaska-m cucukliqarrarirterlkaan, piunrircecaarar cucuklirpagyarapput arcaqakngamegteggu cucuklivlagcetaarun aprumalria Ranked Choice Voting.

Right now, the voting process is simple: voters pick a candidate, and the candidate with a majority of votes wins. Under a Ranked Choice Voting scheme, Alaskans are presented with a confusing grid where candidates are ranked. A voter who only picks the candidate of their choice, and declines to rank others, could find their ballot excluded from the final vote count. It's as though the voter didn't show up for the election.

We Shouldn't Make It More Confusing to Vote
Uunguciitnarqevsianrillaut Cucuklilput

A San Francisco State University professor found a clear decline in minority voter turnout when Ranked Choice Voting was implemented. Not surprisingly, many states and locales that experimented with rank choice voting have since repealed it. When this policy was considered in New York City, the NAACP New York State Conference opposed it, and the chairs of the city's Black, Latino and Asian caucuses said it hurts "immigrants and communities of color."

Vote "NO" on Worse Elections
Cucukliqina “Qanga” Cucuklivlagcetaarutmun

We want to see more Alaskans show up to vote, regardless of their political party. This ballot measure will have the opposite effect—potentially locking political parties out of the general election, and making Alaskans doubt if their vote even counts. The Better Elections Initiative will only make Alaska’s election system less inclusive, not more. We encourage our fellow Alaskans to vote no.

Statement:

It is an honor and a privilege to serve the people of Alaska as a judge on the Court of Appeals. The Alaska Court of Appeals is a multi-judge appellate court that was created in 1980 and tasked with reviewing trial court decisions in criminal cases. Since my appointment in 2017, I have strived each day to meet the challenges and responsibilities that come with deciding criminal appeals statewide.

I review each case that comes before me carefully and diligently, and I work hard to ensure that I am fulfilling the duties with which I am entrusted — listening thoroughly to all views and deciding each case fairly, impartially, and in accordance with the Constitution and the laws of our state.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the public. I would be honored to continue to serve Alaskans in this position.

Serving as a Judicial Officer for the State of Alaska is truly a humbling honor. Since my initial appointment, I have striven to operate a fair and impartial courtroom for all. In addition to my regular duties, I serve as the primary Judicial Officer for the PACE Court. The PACE Court addresses the opioid and methamphetamine crisis afflicting the State through intensive monitoring of persons with addictions in hopes to break the addiction cycle. I previously served as a Wellness Court Judge which addresses defendant’s alcohol abuse issues in a therapeutic court setting to reduce recidivism.

To help all Judges better serve Alaska, I am a member of the Judicial Training Committee, a Training Judge for Magistrate Judges in the Fourth Judicial District and serve as the Deputy Presiding Judge of the Fourth Judicial District at Fairbanks.

I hope to continue to serve Alaska and the Fourth Judicial District for many years to come.
